ENTERPRISE ENERGY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system for managing energy consumption by equipment located at a site. The system includes a database including information relating to pieces of energy consuming equipment located at a site. A server is programmed to calculate an expected energy consumption profile and to notify a user if an actual energy consumption exceeds the expected energy consumption.